, the Aurelio Professor of Scripture emerita at Boston University, since 2009 has been Distinguished Visiting Professor of Comparative Religion at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. A fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, she has published widely on the social and intellectual history of ancient Christianity, and on pagan-Jewish-Christian relations in the Roman Empire. Her two latest books, Paul: The Pagans' Apostle (2017), and When Christians Were Jews (2018), place the Jesus movement's Jewish messianic message within the wider world of ancient Mediterranean culture, politics, and power.
